

vorläufiges Programm!

Erstellen wissenschaftlicher Texte in englischer Sprache Academic Writing Skills

8 to 9 November 2010

Bonn, Gustav-Stresemann-Institut

Monday, November 8th 2010

Content	Presenter	Information	Time
Welcome	DAAD		2.00 pm
Introductions	Trainer, Participants	Participants and trainer will introduce each other and the areas of scientific interest	2.15 pm
Presentation on general difficulties of German speakers when writing academic English	Trainer	The papers previously given in for review will be used as the basis for an analysis and discussion of the structure and grammatical devices in native speaker papers	3.00 pm
Break			4.00 pm
Specific English information	Trainer	Some of the more difficult points of English in academic essays will be reviewed	4.15 pm
Review of native speaker papers	Participants	Participants will use native speaker papers they have brought with them to assess various aspects discussed before the break. They can also correct the papers they handed in themselves on the basis of the information provided	5.00 pm
End of 1st day			5.45 pm
Optional: informal get together

Tuesday, November 9th 2010

Content	Presenter	Information	Time
Useful websites	Participants	Information on Websites providing support in writing English and how to use them	8.30 am
Correction of individual essays	Participants	Participants receive the papers they handed in with corrections and can discuss with the trainer	9.30 am
Break			10.45 am
Punctuation	Trainer, participants	Trainer presents information about English punctuation rules and provides worksheets	11.15 am
Feedback	Participants		12.00 am
End of seminar			12.30 pm

- N.B. Depending on the number and requirements of the participants the content and timing of the seminar can vary considerably.

Information about the seminar “Academic Writing Skills“ and Seminar programme

Target group

Post graduates who are preparing to publish English language papers.

Aim

The advancement of an academic career often involves submitting papers in English. This course, led by a native speaker, is aimed at post graduates who intend to hand in papers for publications or conferences in English.

Success is not only a matter of good translation skills. There are stylistic differences when presenting ideas in English, particularly in written form. The seminar will help you to recognise some of the basic differences and to get your papers accepted. It is held entirely in English.

Methods

Using written papers from the participants and native speaker papers from relevant journals, the trainer will show participants some of the mistakes that are often made when writing academic papers in English and give them the opportunity to discuss how to improve their own writing skills. The workshop contains general practice on improving English, examples of support available from the Internet and specific information about individual weaknesses.

Dozentin

---

Anne Wegner, i p e l s, Bad Honnef

Anne Wegner, gebürtige Engländerin, arbeitete nach ihrem Studium an der Loughborough University of Technology in den Bereichen Arbeitswissenschaft, Datenbankbetreuung und Beantragung/Durchführung europäischer Projekte. Ihr beruflicher Werdegang, der unter anderem Tätigkeiten als Übersetzerin und als "Teacher of English as a Foreign Language" (TEFL) einschließt, führte sie von England nach Belgien, in die Niederlande, Frankreich und Deutschland. Anne Wegner besitzt theoretische und praktische Zusatzqualifikationen im Bereich des interkulturellen Trainings sowie des Konfliktmanagements bei der transnationalen Zusammenarbeit. Ihre jahrzehntelangen Erfahrungen als Weiterbildungstrainerin führten 2004 zur Gründung von IPELS. Sie ist Mitglied der Society for Intercultural Education, Training and Research, sowie des Interculture Network der Universität Jena.

Anne Wegner führt Businesscoaching im Interkulturell- und Sprachenbereich durch und arbeitet als Lehrbeauftragte an der Universität.

Anne Wegner, ipels - intercultural projects and english language support

Organisation

---

„Internationale DAAD-Akademie“ (iDA)

Barbara Boecker

DAAD, Kennedyallee 50, 53175 Bonn

Tel.: 0228-882 672

boecker@daad.de