

Gilman-DAAD Germany Scholarships • DAAD

Overview

Objective

As part of a cooperation with the U.S. Department of State and the Institute of International Education (IIE) within the „Benjamin A Gilman International Scholarship Program“ DAAD provides up to 40 additional „Gilman-DAAD Scholarships“ per year for U.S. undergraduate students to study and/or intern in Germany. Only US Pell Grant recipients are eligible to participate (Pell Grants are federal scholarships for low-income students). The program supports a wider effort to increase and diversify international student mobility among German and U.S. higher education institutions.

The "Gilman-DAAD Germany Scholarships" are funded by the Transatlantic Programme of the Federal Republic of Germany with funds from the European Recovery Programme (ERP) of the Federal Ministry of Economics and Climate Protection (BMWK).

Who can apply?

To be eligible for the Gilman-DAAD Germany Scholarship, applicants must meet all of the eligibility requirements for a regular Gilman Scholarship as stated under <https://www.gilmanscholarship.org/applicants/eligibility/> [<https://www.gilmanscholarship.org/applicants/eligibility/>].

In addition, applicants

- must be matriculated full-time in a degree program in a U.S. accredited college or university and still be matriculated upon completion of their education abroad program, and
- must have completed their second year of study at the time of departure. If students are matriculated at a community college, they must demonstrate that they will be transferring into a four-year (Bachelor's) degree program after completing their education abroad program, and
- must participate in a program that fits the program eligibility as described below.
- Students who have received a Gilman Scholarship funded by ECA in the past or who are receiving Gilman funding at the time of application are not eligible for application for a Gilman-DAAD Germany Scholarship.

What can be funded?

- Summer or winter short-term course (up to three months) at a German university: This course can be offered through the applicant's home institution's German partner university or through one of DAAD's pre-approved list of summer courses (in English or German) as listed under <https://www2.daad.de/deutschland/studienangebote/sommerkurse/en/> [<https://www2.daad.de/deutschland/studienangebote/sommerkurse/en/>]
- Semester or academic year at a German university: This program can be offered through a partner university of the applicant's home institution, through direct matriculation, or through enrollment offered by a third-party provider.
- Study abroad program through a third-party provider: These programs will only be eligible if (a) the student is directly enrolled in a Germany university, or (b) the student participates in a hybrid model, where the student also takes courses at a German university, or if the student has structured interaction with German students and faculty as part of the study abroad program. In all cases the education abroad program must be in Germany.
- Internships: Internships in Germany that will ultimately bear credit from the home institution in the U.S. are eligible and are at least 6 weeks in length.

Duration of the funding

1 – 12 months

value

- Funding of up to USD $ 5.000 depending on each scholar's financial need (determined by IIE)
- health-, accident- and private liability insurance
- Meeting for Gilman-DAAD Germany Scholarship Holders in Germany (if applicable)
